

Q1. Park City Community Foundation is seeking Park City Council candidate feedback regarding the city's role in critical issues in our community around early care and education, affordable housing, equity, and climate.

Please complete this brief survey to help inform these important discussions. We plan to publish the survey results publicly. Thanks in advance for your participation.

Q2.

Q3. What is your name?

John Greenfield

Q4.

Early Care and Education Questions

For purposes of this survey, early care and education refers to all types of regulated providers (center, home-based, preschools, etc.) who care for and educate children under age 6.*

Q5. Alongside other partners such as parents, employers, school districts, other levels of government, philanthropy, etc., do you think the city should play a role in ensuring that every child has an equal opportunity to a quality educational foundation that will prepare them to grow, learn, and succeed?

- Yes
- No
- I am not sure

Q6. Please explain why the city should not play a role alongside other partners in ensuring that every child has an equal opportunity to a quality educational foundation that will prepare them to grow, learn and succeed.

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q7. What additional information do you need to decide whether the city should play a role alongside other partners in ensuring that every child has an equal opportunity to a quality educational foundation that will prepare them to grow, learn and succeed?

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q8. Should the city invest local public funds to help increase access to high-quality early care and education?

- Yes

- No
- I am not sure

Q9. Please explain why the city should not invest local public funds to help increase access to high-quality early care and education.

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q10. What additional information do you need to decide whether the city should invest local public funds to help increase access to high-quality early care and education?

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q11. In what ways do you support the city investing local public funds to help increase access to high-quality early care and education? (Please select all that apply).

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q12. Should the city invest local public funds to increase the affordability of high-quality early care and education?

- Yes
- No
- I am not sure

Q13. Please explain why the city should not invest local public funds to increase the affordability of high-quality early care and education.

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q14. What additional information do you need to decide whether the city should invest local public funds to increase the affordability of high-quality early care and education?

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q15. For whom should the city invest local public funds to increase affordability of high-quality early care and education? (Please select all that apply).

- Residents who earn less than 80% of the area median income
- All residents
- Residents who earn less than 100% of the area median income
- Residents who earn less than 140% of the area median income
- Residents who earn less than 100% of the area median income and also work at a physical establishment located within the city limits (not remote working from home)
- People who earn less than 100% of the area median income and work at a physical establishment located within the city limits
- People who work at a physical establishment located within the city limits (regardless of income)
- Employees of Park City Municipal (regardless of income)
- Employees of Park City Municipal (but with an income cap)
- Employees of local private employers who also contribute towards early care and education expenses of their employees (employee scholarship match program)

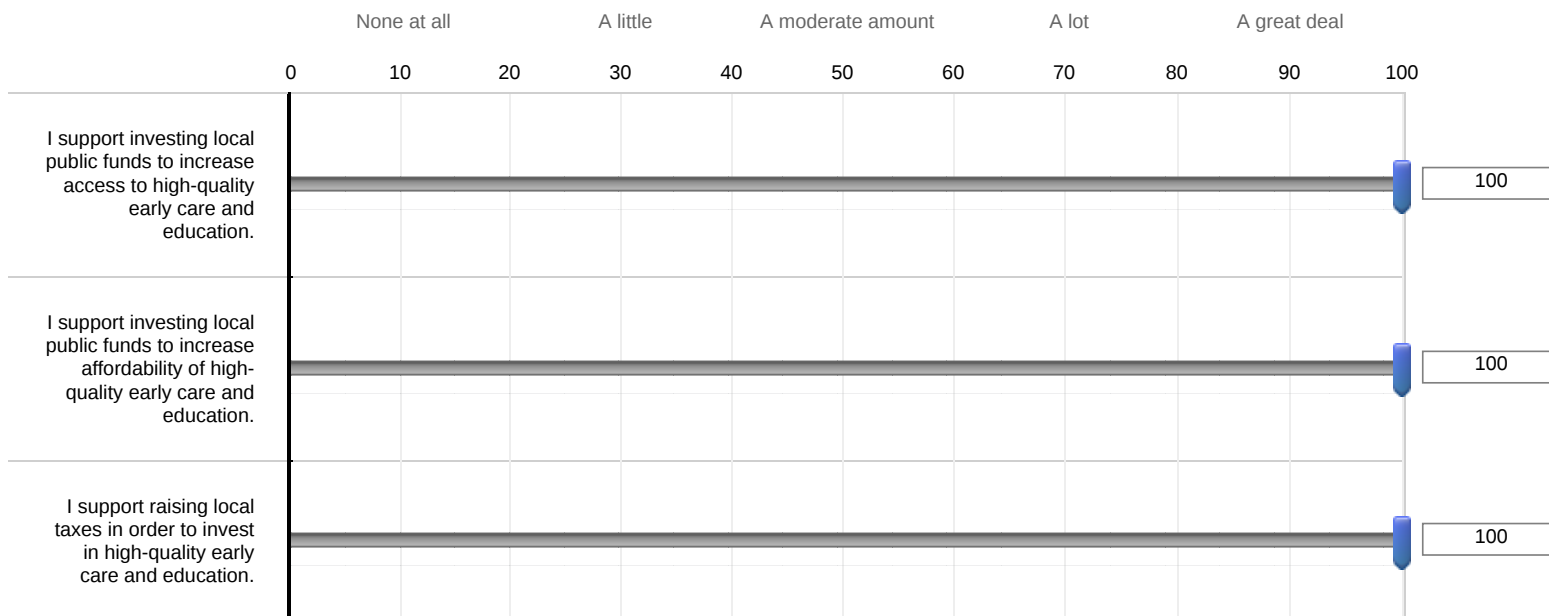

Q16. Would you support increasing local taxes in order to invest in high-quality early care and education in Park City?

- Yes
- No
- I am not sure

Q17. What additional information do you need to decide whether you would support increasing local taxes to invest in high-quality early care and education in Park City?

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q18. Please move the sliders below to indicate your level of support for the following statements.

Q19. Please share any additional thoughts you have regarding the city's role in providing access to affordable early care and education in our community.

Investment in early care and education supports a thriving workforce, educational equity, and overall community well-being, aligning with Park City's current interests and long-term economic and social development. By taking an active role in providing access to affordable early care and education, Park City can stimulate sustainable development and foster a more equitable future. I support the City putting effort towards creating a fund to support both access to affordable early child care and education as well as affordable housing. To this end, I support the application of a voter-approved funding mechanism, similar to the Kids First model Aspen has implemented: a dedicated .45% sales tax requiring intermittent approval by voters. Residents have renewed that funding mechanism on three separate occasions since the program began in 1990, providing an example of action that Park City may find useful.

Q20.

Affordable Housing Questions

Q21. Are you going to support affordable housing projects (rental and ownership) proposed by the City and other entities?

- Yes
- No
- I am not sure

Q22. Are you committed to including the workforce that is in need of housing in the conversations around affordable housing?

- Yes
- No
- I am not sure

Q23. Are you going to prevent legislation (like fractional ownership or nightly rentals) to increase our pool of long-term rentals in the community?

- Yes
- No
- I am not sure

Q24. Please share any additional thoughts you have regarding the city's role in supporting and providing affordable housing in our community.

Supporting and providing affordable housing enhances Park City's economic health, well-being, and long-term sustainability while fostering a more equitable and inclusive community. Workforce housing is the most critical aspect of the affordable housing conversation for several reasons. First and foremost, workforce housing stabilizes our community's essential services, like healthcare, education, public safety, and hospitality. This stability is vital for the overall economic health of Park City. Reducing commute times, increasing employee retention, and expanding the diversity of our workforce become the natural benefits of workforce housing. Accordingly, economic development is driven by an environment's attractiveness to businesses, which workforce housing helps to support because businesses can establish themselves and have the potential to grow. I think the City should put effort towards creating a fund to support both access to affordable housing as well as early child care and education. To this end, I support the application of a voter-approved funding mechanism, similar to the model Aspen has implemented: a dedicated .45% sales tax requiring intermittent approval by voters. Residents have renewed that funding mechanism on three separate occasions since the program began in 1990, providing an example of action that Park City may find useful.

Q25.

Equity Questions

Q26. Do you see yourself championing initiatives that make our city more equitable and inclusive?

- Yes
- No
- I am not sure

Q27. You said you would champion initiatives that make our city more equitable inclusive, how do envision yourself doing that? What types of initiatives?

I see myself advocating for affordable and workforce housing initiatives to ensure residents of all income levels have access to decent and affordable housing. I think public transportation initiatives that ensure residents and our workforce can reach jobs, services, and opportunities in an accessible manner are important. I believe community investments in early childcare are necessary to support a thriving workforce, especially as regards mothers. I support the promotion of multilingual services and resources to accommodate our diverse language-speaking populations, particularly as regards housing, health care, and mental health resources.

Q28. Please explain why the city should not play a role alongside other partners in ensuring that are city is equitable and inclusive for all community members.

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q29. You said you were unsure if you would champion initiatives that make our city more equitable inclusive. Please tell us more. What additional information might you need to make this decision?

This question was not displayed to the respondent.

Q30. How involved do you think Park City municipal be in advancing initiatives related to equity and inclusion?

- Not involved Somewhat involved Very involved
-

Q31. What is the appropriate role of government in the advancement of equity and inclusion in our community?

The government in Park City should actively champion and advance equity and inclusion. Park City can advocate for equitable policies promoting fairness and equal opportunity for all residents, invest in programs that support workforce housing and healthcare, and ensure transportation is accessible and tailored to the diverse needs of the population.

Q42.

Climate Questions

Q33. What is your level of support for sustainability, climate and environmental stewardship efforts at the city level?

- a) Strongly Support
- b) Support
- c) Neutral
- d) Oppose
- e) Strongly Oppose

Q34. Park City aims to reach a net zero goal by 2030. Which solution areas do you believe should be prioritized and accelerated in our community?

	Not important	Somewhat Important	Important	Very Important	Critical
a) Energy Efficiency	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
b) Renewable Energy Sources	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
c) Electrification of Transportation	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
d) Waste Management and Recycling	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>
e) Water Conservation	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>

Q35. How crucial do you perceive the role of city ordinances in helping Park City achieve the net zero goal by 2030? (e.g., in areas like waste diversion, building codes, electrification, special events permits)

- a) Extremely crucial
- b) Very crucial
- c) Moderately crucial
- d) Slightly crucial
- e) Not crucial at all

Q36. Park City Climate Fund is committed to diverting all food waste from landfills. How would you advocate the city support this initiative?

- a) Establish city-wide composting facilities
- b) Provide incentives for local businesses to minimize food waste
- c) Implement educational programs on food waste reduction
- d) Support technological advancements in waste management
- e) Forming strategic partnerships with the county and other stakeholders
- f) please share any of your ideas

Q37. As a City Council member, how will you prioritize sustainability efforts within the community?

Q38. What bold initiatives will you propose to City staff to ensure that Park City is a leader in environmental issues and sustainability?

- a) Aggressive carbon reduction targets
- b) Promotion of innovative green technologies
- c) Establishing a city-wide green education and awareness campaign
- d) Forming strategic partnerships with environmental organizations
- e) Other initiatives you may bring

Q39. In your perspective, how can Park City re-establish itself as a climate leader?

- a) By achieving the net zero goal before 2030
- b) Through initiating groundbreaking sustainability projects
- c) By fostering a culture of environmental responsibility among residents
- d) Through active advocacy on regional, state, and national environmental policies
- e) Other ideas you may bring

Q40. Please share your thoughts on what it means for a mountain town like Park City to be sustainable in relation to the climate.

For a mountain town like Park City to be sustainable in relation to the climate, it means adopting practices and policies that mitigate climate change, reduce environmental impact, and ensure the long-term health and well-being of the community. We need to strike a balance between enjoying our natural resources and protecting them for future generations. Sustainable tourism and the conservation of our natural resources become priorities through this context because it recognizes the interconnectedness of the environment, the economy, and the community's quality of life.

Q41. What sets you apart from the other candidates in you knowledge and goals for climate, sustainability and environmental stewardship?

My demonstrated commitment to learning and my open-minded approach set me apart from the other candidates. I am dedicated to practical solutions that address our community's unique needs, and I am focused on achieving tangible results that resonate with Park City's values and long-term goals.

Location Data

Location: \(40.6751, -111.8166\)

Source: GeolIP Estimation

